

Venison was on the menu for George Calvert (1579 – 1632).
We believe he hunted deer and other wild animals at Kiplin Hall.

These meats were for the wealthy.
They were flavoured with expensive
spices such as cloves, cinnamon
and ginger.

Vegetables complete any meal.
Our walled garden was probably created by Christopher Crowe
the Younger (1716 – 1776).

He grew many varieties of vegetables. This included enormous cabbages. His biggest weighed in at 19kg!
