

Grapes were grown in the vinery by John Delaval Carpenter,
4th Earl of Tyrconnel
(1790 – 1853)

In 1832 he wrote:

“bottled the wine... and it tastes good... it serves 57 pints but the last 2 too thick to drink”.